

Community of Practice for a Just Transition Onboarding Kit

Introduction

We are delighted to have you as a member of the READJUST Community of Practice (CoP) for a Just Twin Transition—a space for policymakers, experts, and stakeholders engaged in the Twin Transition, or those looking to get involved. This CoP will provide opportunities to exchange best practices, learn from peers, and gain early access to READJUST's knowledge base, digital tools, and solutions on inclusivity and equality.

READJUST is an EU-funded project with the aim of investigating and addressing the inequalities exacerbated or created by the green and digital transitions. It will do so by researching the multifaceted aspects of inequalities, by building tools and solutions to assess and tackle them, and by providing policymakers with evidence-based recommendations and roadmaps for fairer policies. The case studies of READJUST focus on the mobility and agri-food sectors. The project started in March 2024 and will run until August 2027.

Project partners

READJUST brings together eight partners who represent academia, small and medium enterprises and non-governmental organisations

Countries involved

READJUST unites researchers and practitioners from five EU countries: the Netherlands, Belgium, Spain, Finland and Germany.

Budget

READJUST receives funding of about EUR 3 million from the European Union to pursue its goals and develop its impact.

We are establishing this CoP to bring together diverse perspectives and to foster knowledge exchange on the inequalities brought about by the twin transition. By becoming a member of the READJUST CoP, you can be actively involved in our mission to tackle the inequalities created by the green and digital transitions.

Funded by the European Union

Views and opinions expressed are however those of the author(s) only and do not necessarily reflect those of the European Union or the REA. Neither the European Union nor the granting authority can be held responsible for them.

Enhance your expertise and gain more insights into the inequalities of the twin transition

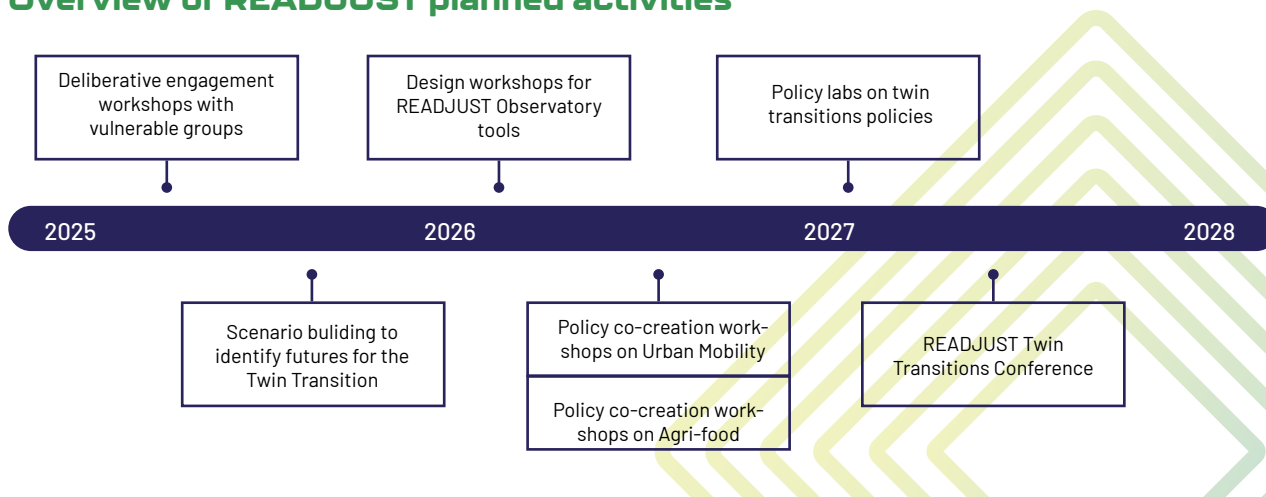

In more practical terms, by joining this CoP you will:

- Become part of a forum where, together with other stakeholders of the twin transition, you can engage in discussions and advance your perspective on the inequalities created by the green and digital transitions
- Access a large network of individuals that are directly or indirectly involved in the twin transition, each one from their domain of expertise
- Be invited to join our next activities and events, which include workshops, policy labs, policy roundtables, and many other types of engagement initiatives
- Receive updates and material concerning the development of the READJUST project, its findings, and identified solutions to address inequalities
- Gain early access to READJUST digital tools and solutions, which include a self-assessment tool, a regulatory tracker tool, and an index of inequalities of the twin transition
- Last, but not least, contribute directly to the highly relevant mission of tackling the inequalities brought by the twin transition

Members requirements and expected commitment

- The READJUST CoP is open to stakeholders (including, but not limited to, NGOs, researchers, policymakers working on topics related to green and/or digital transitions and equity aspects in the agri-food or mobility sector) that are directly or indirectly involved in the green and digital transitions and would like to deepen their knowledge of inequalities of our times
- Participation in READJUST activities is completely voluntary and based on members' interests. You can leave at any time
- Active engagement in the discussions taking place during READJUST activities is highly appreciated
- Please feel free to extend the invite to this CoP to relevant colleagues that might be interested in READJUST topics

Overview of READJUST planned activities

How to engage with the Community

- You are welcome to join any READJUST activity as illustrated above, upon your interest and availability
- You will receive the invitation to our activities by email directly from the event organiser
- You will be provided access to the READJUST tools upon their completion. Instructions on how to access them will be provided by email
- You will receive communication material and updates about READJUST progress via email
- By following our LinkedIn page, you can keep up with news and insights about READJUST. Please feel free to comment and share our posts
- We are always open to suggestions on how to improve our approach. Please always feel free to share your feedback directly by email to the event organisers or by completing the feedback form that will be shared with you after completion of the event
- Please note that details of planned activities may be subject to changes during the course of the project. As part of the READJUST CoP, you will always be informed about their organisation

Become part of the READJUST Community and join our mission to tackle the inequalities created by the green and digital transitions!

Contact Information

We are happy to answer any question you might have.
Please contact us via email at info@readjust.eu

Follow us on LinkedIn and visit our website!

Website

LinkedIn

Funded by
the European Union

Views and opinions expressed are however those of the author(s) only and do not necessarily reflect those of the European Union or the REA. Neither the European Union nor the granting authority can be held responsible for them.